Weddings & Receptions

Reception and Temple Wedding
Photography*

The bride and groom will receive the prints, negatives and digital files of all images created as part of their wedding coverage. A minimum number is guaranteed depending on the amount of time the photographer spends as designated by the wedding package plan chosen. These creative images come bound in a preview album (and in most cases with an extra set and book for the parents).

The bride can meet with the photographer prior to the wedding in a consultation session to carefully plan the particular images that she wants recorded. This planning gives her the opportunity to be assured that all of the important moments will be captured and that all the formal portraits, traditional groups, and action candids important to her are included in her bridal album.

Large Groups and Bride & Groom portraiture are recorded on film for a classic, quality look. All other photos are recorded as high-resolution (8MB+) digital images.

All images (including film-based) are imprinted on a CD-ROM for editing and convenient printing.

actual negative size [2 1/4" x 2 1/4"] (120 film)

All negatives are digitized. All digital image files are transferred to CD. The bride receives the negatives, CD and prints of each image in a preview book.

All negatives and/or digital files become the property of the client upon full payment of the contracted amount. Photographer reserves the right to use images of the bride and groom for self-promotion, display, publication, or other purposes.

Terms: One-half of the contract amount must be paid to reserve a date ($150 of which is the non-refundable deposit). Balance is due on delivery of the prints and negatives / files.
